REPORT

OF THE

Council of the Ethnological Society of London.

MAY 1866.

THE Council has again to report the satisfactory condition of the Society during the past year. Although the increase in its number of Fellows has not been great, yet it has continued steadily, and has been greater than that of the year preceding. A very small number of Fellows have retired during the past year, and death has robbed us of a few more. The following names have been added to the list of Fellows since the anniversary of 1865.

JOHN GRAY MACFARLANE, Esq.

Considerable additions have been made to the Society's LIBRARY and MUSEUM during the past year, and among them the Council desires especially to make honourable mention of a considerable number of valuable works more or less illustrative of the science of Ethnology presented by the President, John Crawford, Esq., and of a series of important works relating to India sent to the Library from the India Office by order of the Secretary of State for India, Earl de Grey. A Catalogue of the Library is in preparation, and will shortly be printed for the use of the Fellows.

The Council has further to report that the sale of the TRANSACTIONS of the Ethnological Society continues to increase and to form an important article in the Treasurer's accounts; and that the latter are in so satisfactory a state that the Society will enter upon a new year of its existence with a larger balance in hand than it has ever possessed before.
